CCB Definition of an AADC – Advanced Alcohol & Drug Counselor

The Connecticut Certification Board defines an AADC – Advanced Alcohol & Drug Counselor as a person who, by virtue of higher education, special knowledge, training, and experience, is uniquely able to inform, motivate, guide, and assist and treat persons with substance use and co-occurring disorders and the unique problems related to these disorders. For the purpose of certification, an Advanced Alcohol & Drug Counselor is defined as a Master's level clinician who has demonstrated competence in performing a range of clinical activities and interventions as defined in the Advanced Alcohol & Drug Counselors Job Task Analysis (2014) by the IC&RC - International Certification & Reciprocity Consortium (www.internationalcredentialing.org). In order to become certified as an AADC, a candidate must demonstrate they have completed appropriate education, training, and supervised experience relevant to the treatment of substance use and co-occurring disorders. In addition, the candidate must pass the specified Master's level examination related to the identified performance domains. A qualified clinician is considered to be performing as an advanced alcohol & drug abuse counselor when:

- a) the clinician has primary responsibility for providing individual and group counseling interventions specifically related to the clinical treatment of substance use and co-occurring disorders
- b) the substance use and co-occurring disorders clinical interventions are identified on a written recovery/treatment plan prepared and reviewed by the clinician in collaboration with the person receiving services
- c) the interventions are directed toward promoting recovery from substance use and co-occurring disorders

Although a substantial portion of the clinician's work experience must be in the counseling domain, work experience must involve experience with all of the performance domains in order to be considered appropriate to meet the certification work requirement. Additionally, all functions must be conducted under appropriate clinical supervision by an AADC, CCS, SCCS or LADC. In all activities, the clinician must demonstrate consistent adherence to the CCB Code of Ethical Conduct (2010) & CCB Code of Ethical Conduct – Disciplinary Procedures (2010) and agree to continue their professional development with ongoing education, training and clinical supervision.

Rule 8.1 - A certified professional shall not refer a client to a person that he/she knows or should have known is not qualified by training, experience, certification, or license to perform the delegated professional responsibility.

DISCIPLINE IN OTHER JURISDICTIONS

Rule 9.1 - A certified professional holding a certification, license, or other authorization to practice issued by any certification authority or any state, province, territory, tribe, or federal government whose certification or license has been suspended, revoked, placed on probation, or other restriction or discipline shall promptly alert the Board of such disciplinary action and provide the Board with such information concerning such discipline and/or authorizations to obtain such information about such discipline as the Board deems reasonably necessary or desirable.

COOPERATION WITH THE BOARD

Rule 10.1 - A certified professional shall cooperate in any investigation conducted pursuant to this Code of Ethical Conduct and shall not interfere with an investigation or a disciplinary proceeding or attempt to prevent a disciplinary proceeding or other legal action from being filed, prosecuted, or completed. Interference attempts may include but are not limited to: 1) the willful misrepresentation of facts before the disciplining authority or its authorized representative; 2) the use of threats or harassment against, or an inducement to, any client or witness in an effort to prevent them from providing evidence in a disciplinary proceeding or any other legal action; 3) the use of threats or harassment against, or an inducement to, any person in an effort to prevent or attempt to prevent a disciplinary proceeding or other legal action from being filed, prosecuted or completed; 4) refusing to accept and/or respond to a letter of complaint, allowing a credential to lapse while an ethics complaint is pending, or attempting to resign a credential while an ethics complaint is pending. Violation of this rule under these circumstances will result in the immediate and indefinite suspension of the certified professional's credential until the ethical complaint is resolved.

Rule 10.2 - A certified professional shall: 1) not knowingly make a false or misleading statement to the CCB, the State of Connecticut, or any other disciplinary authority; 2) promptly alert colleagues informally to potentially unethical behavior so said colleague could take corrective action; 3) report violations of professional conduct of other certified professionals to the appropriate licensing/disciplinary authority when he/she knows or should have known that another certified professional has violated ethical standards and has failed to take corrective action after informal intervention.

Rule 10.3 - A certified professional shall report any uncorrected violation of the Code of Ethical Conduct within 90 days of an alleged violation. Failure to report a violation may be grounds for discipline.

Rule 10.4 - A certified professional with firsthand knowledge of the actions of a respondent or a complainant shall cooperate with the CCB investigation or disciplinary proceeding. Failure or an unwillingness to cooperate in the CCB investigation or disciplinary proceeding shall be grounds for disciplinary action.

Rule 10.5 - A certified professional shall not file a complaint or provide information to the CCB, which he/she knows or should have known, is false or misleading.

Rule 10.6 - In submitting information to the CCB, a certified professional shall comply with any requirements pertaining to the disclosure of client information established by the federal or state government.

MODIFICATION OF CODE OF ETHICAL CONDUCT/DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

Rule 11.1 - The CCB Board of Directors reserves the right to amend and modify the Code of Ethical Conduct and the Code of Ethical Conduct – Disciplinary Procedures. When changes are made, all certified professionals will be notified of all changes made and when changes become effective.

To the AADC Candidate's Clinical Supervisor:

Candidates for AADC – Advanced Alcohol and Drug Counselor are required to submit a satisfactory reference from the candidate's current or most recent Clinical Supervisor. You are asked as the Clinical Supervisor of the candidate whose name appears on the attached form to complete the attached reference. This reference is an integral part of the certification process. It is therefore imperative that each reference be filled out as completely as possible and returned on a timely basis.

AADC - Advanced Alcohol and Drug Counselor is a person who, by virtue of special knowledge, training, and experience, is uniquely able to inform, motivate, guide, and assist persons with addictive disorders and problems related to addictive disorders. For the purpose of certification, a Certified Addiction Counselor is defined as a clinician who has demonstrated competence in performing a range of clinical activities and interventions as defined in the Job Task Analysis for Alcohol & Drug Counselors (2013) by the IC&RC - International Certification & Reciprocity Consortium (www.internationalcredentialing.org).

A qualified clinician is considered to be performing as an addiction counselor when:

- a) the clinician has primary responsibility for providing individual and group counseling interventions specifically related to addiction disorders;
- b) the addiction-specific interventions are identified on a written recovery/treatment plan prepared and reviewed by the clinician in collaboration with the person receiving services;
- c) the interventions are directed toward promoting recovery from substance use disorders, and;
- d) the interventions are documented appropriately in the client record.

PLEASE NOTE: Clinical Supervisor must either be a AADC, CCS, SCCS or LADC in order to sign this form. No other credentials will be accepted.

Inadequate	Needs Improvement	Competent	Above Average	Exceptional
1	2	3	4	5
Advanced Alcohol and Drug Counselor Domains					Score
Clinical Evaluation: The systematic approach to screening and assessment of individuals thought to have a substance use disorder, being considered for admission to addiction-related services, or presenting in a crisis situation.
Treatment Planning: A collaborative process in which professionals and the client develop a written document that identifies important treatment goals that addresses the identified substance use disorder(s), as well as issues related to treatment progress, including relationships with family and significant others, potential mental conditions, employment, education, spirituality, health concerns, and social and legal needs. The plan describes measurable, time-sensitive action steps toward achieving goals with expected outcomes; and reflects an agreement between the counselor and client.
Referral: The process of facilitating the client's use of available support systems and community resources to meet needs identified in clinical evaluation or treatment planning.
Service Coordination: The administrative, clinical, and evaluative activities that bring the client, treatment services, community agencies, and other resources together to focus on issues and needs identified in the treatment plan. Service coordination, which includes case management and client advocacy, establishes a framework of action to enable the client to achieve specified goals. It involves collaboration with the client and significant others, coordination of treatment and referral services, liaison activities with community resources and managed care systems, client advocacy, and ongoing evaluation of treatment progress and client needs.
Counseling: A collaborative process that facilitates the client's progress toward mutually determined treatment goals and objectives. Counseling includes methods that are sensitive to individual client characteristics and to the influence of significant others, as well as the client's cultural and social context. Competence in counseling is built on an understanding of, appreciation of, and ability to appropriately use the contributions of various addiction counseling models as they apply to modalities of care for individuals, groups, families, couples, and significant others.
Client, Family &amp; Community Education: The process of providing clients, families, significant others, and community groups with information on risks related to psychoactive substance use, as well as available prevention, treatment, and recovery resources.
Documentation: The recording of the screening and intake process, assessment, treatment plan, clinical reports, clinical progress notes, discharge summaries, and other client-related data.
Professional &amp; Ethical Responsibilities: The obligations of an addiction counselor to adhere to accepted ethical and behavioral standards of conduct and continuing professional development.
Understanding Addiction: Understands a variety of models, theories and issues related to addiction; recognize the various contexts within which addiction exists; risk and protective factors of addiction; understanding of the multiple effects of addiction upon the person and significant other(s); awareness of the potential for co-occurring psychiatric and medical conditions.
Treatment Knowledge: Knowledge of the philosophies, practices, policies, and outcomes of the most generally accepted and scientifically supported models of treatment, recovery, relapse prevention, and continuing care for addiction; Recognize the importance of family, social networks, and community systems in the treatment and recovery process; Understand the importance of research and outcome data and their application in clinical practice; and Understand the value of an interdisciplinary approach to addiction treatment.
Application to Practice: Understands established diagnostic criteria for substance use disorders, treatment modalities and placement criteria within the continuum of care; Experienced in a variety of helping strategies for reducing the negative effects of substance use, abuse, and dependence and can tailor helping strategies and treatment modalities to the client's stage of dependence, change, or recovery.
Professional Readiness: Understand the importance of self-awareness in one's personal, professional and cultural life; a professional's obligations to adhere to ethical and behavioral standards of conduct in all helping relationships; the importance of ongoing clinical supervision and continuing education; the obligation to apply policies and procedures for handling crisis or dangerous situations, including safety measures for clients and staff.
Cultural Competency: Appreciation of diverse cultures and ability to incorporate relevant needs of culturally diverse groups, as well as people with disabilities, into clinical practice; sensitivity to the unique influence culture, lifestyle, gender, and other relevant factors may have on behavior; appreciation of the relationship between substance use and diverse cultures, values, and lifestyles; utilization of assessment and intervention methods appropriate to culture and gender; and utilization of counseling methods relevant to the needs of culturally diverse groups and people with disabilities.
